First African-American Police Officers

African-American John Joyce was joined by George Dillahunt in 1944. Both were placed in the uniform division, but still had power of arrest only in the black section. Four more African-Americans would join within two years. Dillahunt left after only nine months.